If AI were utilized in any manner to prepare or compose any filing or submission to the Court in any capacity, counsel and/or pro se litigants shall sign and file a “Disclosure of the Use of Artificial Intelligence” at the end of any such filing or submission, before the signature block, stating as follows:

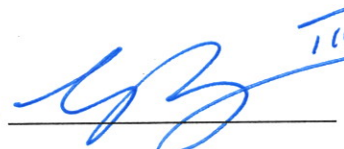

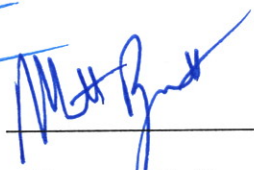

This Document was generated with the assistance of [identify the AI tool/program name]. [I/we] further certify that any exhibits cited in the pleadings exist in [my/our] possession at the time of the said filing in a format that [I am / we are] able to provide to the Court at any time during the pendency of this matter.

Accordingly, arguments in briefs to the Court which are supported or infused by AI-generated content (including but not limited to cases that do not exist or are substantially dissimilar from their presentation to the Court) are strictly disallowed.
